9.1 CTS Web Services

CTS Web Services works with farm management software, so you only have to input your information once and your farm software does the rest.

You can report all your cattle births and movements using an internet link from your farm management package. Some of the information is validated, which leads to fewer mistakes, and the information you send is more secure than email. You can also print off a receipt for the information you send.

You can automatically compare your records against the Cattle Tracing System (CTS) as often as you like with the 'Cattle on Holding' cross-check option.

Look on the BCMS pages of the RPA website at www.rpa.gov.uk for a list of suppliers with packages that link to CTS Web Services.
